

We stand behind every gearhead we make.

PROUDLY MADE IN AMERICA

Our team of highly skilled and diverse professionals at CGI, Inc. is committed to listening to your needs and delivering the value you deserve. We know that your application demands quality products designed right, on-time and within budget. From customized applications to standard products, our reputation is defined every time a gearhead ships.

Getting started with CGI has never been easier. 3D CAD models are available for download in every major format by simply logging on to www.cgimotion.com. If our standard products don't match your specification, custom engineering is available to meet your exacting needs.
